Dear Mrs Haines -

I know you are interested in each one of us, and I am glad to improve the first opportunity of letting you know how I am situated. "God's ways are not our ways" and the mysterious designs of His providence who shall question. I will pass quickly over our pleasant meeting at Omaha Mr & Mrs Little's kindness and the delightful hospitality of the people, our pleasant trip over the mountains also the anxiety which me each felt in not meeting Dr Sheldon Jackson. Still this was banished upon arriving at Ogden and finding Rev Mr Knowles at the train to meet us and kindly offering to go down to Salt Lake with us. At Salt Lake Rev Mr McNiece and Prof. Cogner met us at the train and conducted us to the basement of the church where were a number of ladies and gentlemen who cordialy took us to their homes and entertained us with that hospitality peculiar to the West.

The committee met on the evening of the day after our arrival - Thursday - and as Mr McNiece had intimated to me before it was decided to send me to Ogden.

I came up here Friday afternoon with Mr Gillespie and Miss Bartlett on her way to Springville. Rev Mr Park and Knowles met us. Mr K. had already provided me with a good boarding place where I could have the society of Dear Miss Campbell who came three weeks in advance of us. And now they are talking of sending her to a new field and I cannot bear to think of parting with her. We can work together so nicely.

I cannot say that I found the school as I would like; it seemed to me there was no discipline; but Mr K. gave me the sole charge and the teachers say there is already a great change.

I have spent all of my spare moments calling and I hope to be able to do much of that.

laboring under disadvantages the principal one of which is not having a suitable room for school. The long seats in the chapel are very undesirable for school and we have no partitions between the two departments. Still we have good order and not much noise considering our numbers. My department numbers 27 and Miss Campbell's 30. Praying that the dear Saviour may bless all our efforts to win souls to Him, I remain with love

Dear Laborers in the Mission Field

What a delightful thought it is that "We are laborers together with Christ" and "If God be for us who can be against us".

It is indeed a fact worthy of note that all of our band are so contentedly and cheerfully working for the Master.

Whatever trials or discouragements we may meet we know it is for Him and we feel assured that He will send us no more than He is willing and able to help us bear.

I am now together with Miss Campbell my co-worker keeping house. That is we have rooms and take our dinners at our former boarding place which is much nearer the chapel. We have reduced our expenses one third & are happier and have more conveniences than we did while boarding.

Our school is in a very prosperous condition. The numbers are constantly increasing.
Both parents and pupils seem interested. In our calls upon Mormon families we are received with the utmost cordiality and they nearly always think to thank us for coming. I think however that Ogden must be an exception to most of the towns in this Territory as all the Mormons with whom we have to deal treat us very kindly. Probably more than one half of our school are from gentile families. But just now there is much dissatisfaction about the large Mormon school + pupils are coming from there to us and begging us to take them.

I asked the Mormon Bishop's children who came to-day if they would come to our Sabbath school "Oh yes, they said, Our mother don't care where we go."

Our Sabbath Sch. numbers ninety pupils and we have an average of seventy. Rev. McKnowles is one of the best workers among the children that it has ever been my privelege to meet. We are it is a real treat to teach them. Last Sabbath we had 69 in the school. We have an enrollment of over 60 this term in our day-school but sickness has made some of our pupils irregular.

I hope we may have better accomodations another year. Do you think the board will make an effort to give us an addition to our building? I think I could raise a little through personal friends. At least I will try. We have been praying for guidance from above and that we may have patience to wait. It is time remembering that, "He doeth all things well."

Most sincerely yours
M. A. Scovel.

Dear Mrs Haines —

How I would like to see you and introduce you to some of our children. They are dearer to me every day. I can look back over these few months and see such a marked improvement in most of them. Yet we have one very discouraging case whom we felt was injuring the others so much perhaps it was better that they should not have the influence. This girl has been with us some time but she seems to have no conscience with regard to honesty. Poor child she does not seem to realize the great wrong of such a course.

Last evening we were visited by three of our pupils and one little fellow was so much engaged in committing to memory the parable of the "Prodigal Son" that every few moments during the evening he would take his testament from his pocket and steal a glance at some portion he was not quite sure of. This was while we were playing a game of Authors. After we had finished the game I said Alma let me see how much of it you can repeat. When to my surprise he repeated the whole parable commencing with the 11th verse of the XV Chapter of Luke and without misplacing or leaving out a word recited to the end of the chapter. This boy is the son of a Mormon polygamist and until he came to us, never had any religious instruction with the exception of the Book of Mormon. I am much inclined to think that his older sister Laura has already met with a change of heart. She is one of our brightest and most promising pupils.

Perhaps you remember that I have told you that I have a large class of boys in Sabbath School. They are so attentive and intelligent

Dear Miss Haines

As I was just getting my report ready about the time of receiving yours letter, I thought these might be in it such items as you desired. Hence I have neglected writing.

We had a very nice Christmas tree for our Sabbath School. Our friends in the East helped us very liberally to articles for the tree and the children recited and sang very nicely. We decorated our chapel with evergreen mottoes such as these

"Christ Cometh" in front and at the back of the room "Welcome" on one side cross the word "Bethlehem" with a star beneath, and on the other the word "Calvary" with a cross beneath it.
Miss Campbell and myself had very little rest during our vacation there seems to be always something which is necessary to be done for the church or schools I do not mean this as a complaint for we love our work and are willing to do all that lies in our power for its advancement.
We boarded for two months but as we found that too expensive for our income, we decided to try living in a cheaper way so we rented a furnished room of one of the elders of our church and are boarding ourselves. We get room fuel and light for $10.50 per month which is very reasonable indeed for this country. If it were not that our housekeeping occupies all our leisure moments and that we have three blocks to walk (equal to six in B.) without any decent sidewalk we should enjoy our mode of living much better than boarding. On school days we take our dinners near the building which we get at 25 cts. per meal. Mr Knowles is very kind to us and is very anxious that we should not want for anything to make as comfortable.

Our present term of school opened with sixty pupils all seem ambitious to learn and if we had better accommodations our numbers would be largely increased.

We long for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit in Ogden our labors will be in vain without the blessing of our Heavenly Father. Although our discouragements are not like those in some parts of the Country yet we have them all the same and we need the prayers and sympathy of those at home.

Yours with Love Marcia A. Lund.

MOUNT HOLYOKE

Our work here at Ogden presents some peculiar features which are not met with elsewhere in the Territory with the exception of one place. But we pray for peace that we may bear and forbear for the good of this cause.

Miss Campbell and I enjoy working together for each feels that they have a sympathizing friend in the other. We have boarded together with the exception of five weeks ever since I came.

We have both worked hard and endured some hardships of which one never dreamed when at home Still we do not complain I feel willing to go where-ever my services can avail most for the cause of Christ. I have never for one moment regreted that I came to Utah.

I only regret that I have not had strength to do more work. We have made a great many calls which are sometimes a tax upon our strength after being in school all day. We are now with the help of one other lady doing the janitor work of the Church. Our vacation has thus far been a busy one.

Most Truly and affectionately yours Marcia A. Pearce.

them. As Presbytery meets here it would be pleasant if they could meet with us. In regard to the outfit I should say about the same things are needed as one would need at home. Plenty of good warm flannels, good substantial underwear; a gray cloth dress is very serviceable, and ginghams that do not show the dust. A good supply of substantial shoes as we have so much walking to do and shoes are so expensive here. They should be careful and not have their baggage over 150 lbs. If you can make similar arrangements to those made for our coming out it will make their trip extremely pleasant. The people at Canoa were so kind and thoughtful. They ought all to remember to take a large lunch.

Dear Miss Haines

Your kind note of July 5th is received and I must tell you that your cheering words went right to my heart and I felt that I could love to come to you, put my hand in yours and tell you of all my little cares and anxieties. I know you would be a sympathizing friend but I do not intend to worry you with trifles.

I have just returned from Salt Lake City I saw Mr. McCreadie and Prof. Cozner and gained some very good ideas with regard to their work.

Ogden needs a good school building but you know it requires some head work to get things as they have them at Salt Lake. I cannot help thinking if one had a Prof. Cozner here or one with his energy and experience, one could build up a grand school in Ogden.

I am delighted that you think of visiting Fulton I know you can create a great interest among the ladies. They sent me $25.00 to use about our chapel and one are going to assist is helping to build a new fence around the chapel.

Miss M. St. Gardener is the president of the Ladies Missionary Society and Miss Sara Rockwell Sec.

Rev James Riggs is pastor. I know you will receive a hearty welcome.

Do not fail to get an introduction to my uncle and aunt Mr & Mrs J. C. Gillespie.
They live one mile from town but are always at church.

As to the new teacher I am sure they will receive a hearty welcome and one at Ogden shall be glad to meet them and do all we can to assist yet been ordained or installed I think Presbytery will meet here this month sometime.

The session will take some action about this matter on Tuesday evening at their regular monthly meeting.

I enclose a brief statement from our school superintendent, which I would like to have returned.

My kindest family with whom I create you know are much surprised and grieved at the thought of you leaving them to go so far away. She have a beautiful home and invite you to make it. Still I must go and pray God guided. May God guide and direct them both in their leaving efforts in Christian service. Yours Most Respectfully.

Mrs F. E. H. Haines.

Dear Sister

I sent you a postal last week upon receipt of your letter, it being the first intimation that I had received of the acceptance of my application. I have been very much occupied with school work all summer but shall take a little time for rest after this week.

Previous to receiving your last letter I received a very urgent invitation to go into a family as private teacher and accompany the two young ladies, but have declined it I

I pray the Lord that has raised this subject upon the heart.

I have written to Mr Tick of Laurence with regard to ours but still I would like to make some inquiries of you about this particular field which has been assigned ours.

Is there any school of any description in the place? or has one ever been carried on by your people? Is there a suitable place or building for a school? What opposing element will be strongest? Is there likely to be any one near who will feel sympathy for the cause of Christ enough to encourage the work?

I earnestly pray that power be directed by our Heavenly Father in this work.

I feel that our strength is in our weakness.

I was in my infancy consecrated to Christ and his cause and I know how the heart of my father and mother who have long since passed to their reward would rejoice to give their only surviving child to such a work.

Our church has been more engaged in foreign than in home missions but I hope they will be aroused to this subject and all the principles of elevating and ennobling those of our own land. Our pride is gratified to see this [illegible] and has not the fraud which is practiced upon upon them.

I have charge of the Sabbath school as Mr Fagan is to Payson to preach. There were 28 present yesterday and I had no help, but they were orderly and attentive. Montrose has a very good congregation from 50 to 60 every evening who come to hear truth instead of the error which has been and is constantly being poured into their ears. Oh! that all might accept the Gospel of Jesus Christ in its purity and simplicity.

Most truly Yours

M. A. Lovell

Kiphi Jan 8th 80 Antab

My dear Mrs Haines

It seems like some little time since I have written you for various reasons and now I find myself in Kiphi with Rev Mr Fraser.

Every thing is so pleasant here that I enjoy my work I can't tell you how much. But I love the church and school in Q to so much that I shall ever feel interested in its prosperity

I left the dear children all in tears and if you could have seen the company at the depot to say good-bye and and the dear boys who came to my room to spend the last evening of my stay with me you would not wonder that it was hard for me to part from them. Yet I think I am needed more here as Mr Fraser had no one to help him about the school or church. We have a very pretty little Mason & Hamlin organ which is a great help and I am training some little girls to sing who have very pretty voices. They are a great help to one also I think one shall soon have a large school although it is not very large now every one is so busy with their work.

Mr McBurney has just called upon me on his way to Salt Lake.
He goes to the Uintas soon. I think he has done a good work here and is a very fine young man.

You daughters know that there is a gentile element here all have once been Mormons but many have already seen
